About Us

Formed in 1998 by Martyn Crawley and Richard Davis, Chavereys is recognised as a leading specialist in the provision of financial and tax advice to landed estates, farms and rural businesses.

Our recognised expertise and reputation is now pushing our footprint further afield and we operate throughout England.

Efficiently sized we pride ourselves on having a highly trained team, one that understands the rural sector. The majority of our staff has some grounding in agriculture.

We will remain a proactive specialist firm providing a complete range of services to our clients as well as consultancy advice to clients of less specialist accountancy firms. We will remain dedicated to the rural sector.

We pride ourselves on the quality of our people and through this the quality of our work.

Our services

Services often overlap particularly where land and property are concerned. We therefore ensure we consider all aspects of our clients' business and personal circumstances before giving advice. More importantly we recognise that what looks good on paper doesn't always make good commercial sense or most importantly doesn't fit the personal objectives of our clients. We specialise in the following:

- Financial and strategic consultancy
- Stamp Duty Land Tax
- Business structure, specifically farming companies and partnerships
- VAT issues associated with diversification
- Capital Gains Tax on land and property
- Accounting and auditing of farming businesses
- Trust and Estate Inheritance
- Family disputes
- Tax planning
- Rurally focused charities
- Agricultural Co-operatives

We operate throughout England and our offices are based in Ashford, Kent and Haslingfield near Cambridge. It is rare that we hold meetings at our offices and we prefer to see people on location, in our experience this is where people feel most comfortable facilitating more constructive meetings and subsequent advice.
